ASTIGMATISM.

What it is, and How Corrected.

Asigmatism or Irregular Vision is one of the most common of all the refractive errors. It is due to the irregular curvature of the eye known as the Cornea. Of course no instrument is sufficient to correct it, but in the hands of a thoroughly efficient and competent optician the ophthalmometer reveals the exact condition of the eye in a way that nothing else can. If your eyes need attention have DR. J. T. JOHNSON put them under this wonderful instrument. Office hours 8:30 to 12:30 and 2 to 6. 302 S. Elm St.

Mrs. C. C. Collins this morning turned loose about forty homing pigeons sent him from Bridgeport, Connecticut. They were liberated at 4:30 o'clock and should they follow their instinct and fly directly home, are expected to reach Bridgeport tonight, probably about 9:30 o'clock. Their intended destination is an estimated distance of 800 miles from Greensboro. Mr. Collins, a short while ago, liberated two pigeons sent him from central Pennsylvania and they made the trip home in eight hours.

Approaching Nuptials.

Cards have been issued announcing the approaching marriage of Mr. John Barnes Glendelin to Miss Julia Elizabeth Pearce, which will occur on Wednesday evening, June 14, at nine o'clock, in the West Market M. ## THE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

Large Audiences and Interesting Exercises.

ANNUAL ADDRESS LAST NIGHT

By Mrs. M. E. Cartland, President of the State Organization—Program For Tomorrow.

The annual state convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union began its work in Grace M. P. Church at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The church was prettily and appropriately decorated with bunting and the Union banners. Mrs. Mary E. Cartland presided, and the reports of Mrs. C. E. Craven and Mrs. N. C. Weatherly, corresponding secretary and treasurer, respectively, were read, at which the following committees were appointed:

On Credentials—Miss Cherry and Mrs. Fitzpatrick.
Courtesses—Mesdames Cunningham, Harrell and Blair.
On Telegrams—Mesdames Robertson and Billingsley.
Rev. R. P. Troy, Mr. Paine, President Hobbs, of Guilford College, and Rev. T. M. Johnson, the last named, the pastor of Grace Church, were introduced to the convention and all made short, pleasant and profitable talks. Mr. Johnson assured the convention of a warm welcome to his church.

In appreciation of his labors on behalf of the State Union, the convention gave Mr. Johnson the Chataqua salute.

In Mrs. Craven's report she said that there were 700 licenced distillers in North Carolina, most of them within 200 miles of Statesville.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

A large audience was present at last night's meeting and the exercises were of very great interest. Mrs. M. E. White, of Guilford College, conducted the devotional exercises, after which the addresses of welcome were given by Prof. P. P. Claxton, on behalf of the city; Rev. Joseph Peale, on behalf of the churches; Miss Nora Coble for the South Greensboro Union and Mrs. L. H. Robertson for the original Greensboro Union. All these addresses breathed a warm and cordial spirit and were well adapted to make the delegates feel themselves welcomed to our "City of Flowers." Though Prof. Claxton's was somewhat impromptu, he having been substituted for Mayor Taylor, who was unable to attend on account of official duties, it was entertaining, welcoming and edifying and, of course, eloquent. We regret that we cannot give some of his beautiful thoughts.

After the singing of the W. C. T. U. State Song, composed by Mrs. E. D. Hundley, of our city, and set to the tune of the "Old North State," Mrs. M. E. Cartland, president of the state organization, read her annual address. This address was replete with earnest thought and wise suggestions for the future work of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Cartland is a lady of easy and sprightly address, and presides with grace and tact over the body of earnest women who follow her leadership. Her address showed plainly her deep grasp of the subject, and her devotion to the principles for which the W. C. T. U. stands. After giving a tangible expression of their sympathy with the work of the good women in the form of good collection, the audience dispersed much pleased with the interesting and profitable exercises of the evening.

TODAY'S MEETINGS.

The meeting this morning opened with music, after which the devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Lucy Edwards, of High Point, and the convention was called to order by the president. We regret that, in the usual Saturday rush of copy, detailed reports of the helpful meetings today are crowded out. The department reports were most interesting, all having been prepared with great care and much information favorable, and unfavorable, being given in them.

The meeting tonight will be, we believe, the most interesting of the convention. As will be seen in the program printed yesterday the annual recitation contest will be held. All the reciters are good and an entertaining contest may be expected, besides the many other interesting features of the evening. Seats will no doubt be at a premium.

THE FAMOUS DREYFUS CASE.

Its Revision Decided Upon by the Court of Cassation.

MME. DREYFUS HEARS THE NEWS

She Welcomes the Hour of Justice And Awaits the Verdict of Future Judges.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Paris, June 3.—The Court of Cassation has decided in favor of the revision of the Dreyfus case. The new court-martial will be held at Reims.

DREYFUS' WIFE HEARS THE NEWS.

Paris, June 3.—Mme. Dreyfus has been authorized to inform her husband of the reports of the ballot of Beaupre, the procurator, and Gen. Manan, in the matter of the revision of the case of Capt. Dreyfus. When this authorization was conveyed to her she replied with deep feeling that she welcomed the hour of justice, of which she had never despaired, and has waited with absolute confidence for the verdict of future judges in her husband's case.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., June 3.

R. C. Charles will soon begin the erection of his 9-room, two-story residence on the corner of English and Depot streets. The brick and sand are being hauled.

With pleasure we announce the coming of the First N. C. Regiment Band, which will appear in the opera house here next Tuesday night, June 6. It is composed of the finest musicians and is a credit to the state. Although the notice is rather short still we believe that High Point will give it a full house, such as it has ever received during its triumphal tour since leaving Cuba.

High Point roller mills have been shut down all the week in order to put in some very fine machinery which will enable the mill to turn out a better and more wholesome grade of the "staff of life."

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Ralph Bingham.

Mr. Ralph Bingham, whom the people of Greensboro will be afforded an opportunity to hear at the Academy of Music June 15, under the auspices of the Centenary M. E. church ladies, is not a lecturer. He is a delightful imitator and impersonator and musician of rare ability. Read the following from the Daily Journal, of Meriden, Conn.:

A representative audience greeted the Ralph Bingham Concert Company—for he is a whole concert in himself—at the Town Hall Saturday evening. He is a genuine humorist, a clever monologist and a genius on the violin, and as a public entertainer deserves the high encomiums he has received. The people of the town ought to be good natured for some time, for they nearly all laughed until their sides ached.

Here's a chance to get a good pair of shoes for less than they are worth. Thacker & Brockmann have a lot of men's sample shoes, odd pairs and broken sizes worth at regular prices $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, etc., marked down to $1.95 for choice of the entire lot. There are about a dozen different styles and shapes in the lot, tan, black, and chocolate. Look in at the north window and you can get an idea of the values offered at $1.95.

Sunday Dinner.

Ice cream for your Sunday dinner. Send your order this evening or Sunday morning for chocolate, vanilla or strawberry cream made of pure cream. Restaurants and ice cream parlors open each day from 7 a. m. until midnight. You can get ice at any hour at 10 cents. Hot dinner Sunday at West's Kandy & Ice Cream Kitchen.

New styles ladies' neckwear just received at Kaufmann's, under the Benbow.

NATIONAL CAPITAL GOSSIP.

The Virginia Senatorship and Other Matters of Interest.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, D. C., June 3.—Senator Martin's friends assert that at least two-thirds of the members of the democratic state committee are opposed to the calling of a state convention to select a candidate for the United States senatorship, as proposed by the recent Richmond conference. The meeting of the committee takes place this month, and it is said that the sentiment of the democrats in a majority of the counties of the state would not warrant the committee in taking the action proposed. Senator Martin while in the city the other day expressed his satisfaction that the democratic state committee would assemble for the purpose of taking action in the matter. He stated that no matter what method of choosing the nominee is agreed upon, he is convinced that he will be returned to the United States senate with but little opposition.

Representative Rhea, of the ninth Virginia district, was in the city yesterday morning. The congressman registered at the Metropolitan Hotel. In conversation he stated that he is entirely satisfied with the result of the contest for his seat and he is satisfied that General Walker will not succeed in getting the seat when congress assembles.

Representative Bellamy, of North Carolina, whose seat is being contested, was in the city yesterday, as was also Representative Crawford, of the same state. Both congressmen are in the city on business connected with the departments in which they and their constituents are interested.

Postoffice site at McCains, Union county, has been moved one and a half miles northeast. Thomas Starnes has been commissioned postmaster.

John Young has been commissioned postmaster at Glen Ayre, North Carolina.

Star service has been established in the state of North Carolina as follows: Hareford by Roanoke, to Price, 10.25 miles and back, three times a week by a schedule of not to exceed 3 hours running time each way.

Lilly, by South Mills, to Camden, 18 miles and back, by a schedule of not to exceed 5 hours running time each way, six times a week.

No Quorum.

An adjourned meeting of the board of aldermen was to have been held last night to consider sanitary work and the matter of making an appropriation for the Firemen's Tournament and Gala Week, but there was no quorum and the matters go over to the regular meeting next Friday night.

ANOTHER UNGALLANT TONGUE.

Captain Robley D. Evans, during the Spanish war, as commander of the battleship Iowa, was a great favorite with the people. But like Capt. Coghlan, since the excitement of battle is over, his tongue has grown too loose, and unlike Capt. Coghlan, his communicative disposition bids fair to cause him a loss of admirers.

Last Saturday night Rear Admiral Sampson was entertained at the Union League club of Philadelphia. Capt. Evans was not there but he talked through a letter which was read to the assembled guests. In this letter Capt. Evans said: "You of course know my feeling toward Admiral Sampson. Every officer who fought under him, except one, has the same." Everybody who heard the remark knew it was intended as a fling at Rear Admiral Schley, and it unquestionably displays Evans' bitter envy of his superior officer. To say the least "Fighting Bob" has shown very bad taste.

Commenting on the incident the Chicago Tribune with a very pretty account of the fight—an ever interesting subject—explains:

In searching for the reason of this breach of good manners no other can be found except that "Fighting Bob," like Sampson, was in the rear guard at the battle of Santiago. He was barely in it at the start and not in it at all at the end. He saw a part of the action, but did not participate in the windup. He did not know what had happened to the Colon until the news was brought to him. When the battle began the New York was at Siboney, thirteen miles away, out of "signal distance" and too far away to hear the lighter guns. It was not until the boom of the thirteen-inch guns was heard that Sampson was aware that there was a battle, and then he sailed away in such haste that he left a steam launch and three of his officers ashore. He did not arrive in sight of Santiago until the Spanish fleet was sunk and the victory was won by Schley who was in command.

Evans looked upon the beginning of the fight and took part in it gallantly, for which he is deserving of all credit. But after the first half hour of the engagement the Iowa could not keep up with the procession. Being a battleship it was too slow, and all its boilers and engines were not in use. The Iowa was only up to about five knots an hour. Either its boilers were not all on or its engines were not coupled, or its bottom was foul; and if it had been in the best of shape it could not have overhauled the cruisers. So the Iowa dropped astern and after the first few rounds was out of the fight. This may be the reason for Evans' letter and for his admiration of Sampson. They were together. Both were in the rear guard. It could hardly be expected that a man who was tailing along in the rear should have much admiration for the man who was always at the front and was in the fight from the beginning to the end, as is shown by the testimony of all the captains who were near enough to the front to express an intelligent and impartial opinion.

Lieutenant Eberle and Capt. Clark, of the Oregon, are the only authoritative witnesses in the case. They alone are qualified to tell what Admiral Schley did, because they are the only ones who were with him and could see what he did. The testimony of Admiral Sampson, who was thirteen miles off, and of Capt. Evans, who was twenty miles away or more when the Colon surrendered, has no authority. They were not eyewitnesses. Evidence to have any weight must come from personal knowledge. Capt. Evans would hardly like to state under oath that he knew what Schley was doing of his personal knowledge. It is absurd for a man to talk about things of which he has no means of exact information except by hearsay.

The American people's love of frankness and bravery and Schley has demonstrated these qualities to a greater degree than any of the naval commanders. He is the people's champion and the fling at his laurels by Capt. Bob Evans is sure to rebound to the discomfort of the flinger.

TARHEEL TALENT.

The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary is the largest Baptist seminary in the world, and during the past few years it is said to have led the protestant world in number of students. Its regular course comprises three years of close study. The students who take this course receive the degree of Master of Theology. Last commencement, Rev. R. W. Weaver, of this city, completed this work after only two years' study. In the forty years' history of the Seminary this had been paralleled in only two instances and these men took the course when it was easier than now.

The highest degree given by the institution is Doctor of Theology. This degree is given after four or more years' work. The diploma specifies four full years. Some students have tried for six years to secure it and have failed. This year, Mr. Weaver was a candidate for this degree and on May 30 (Tuesday night) the faculty decided to confer it upon him. He is the first North Carolinian to win it, and the first man who has ever won it in three years. It is now Rev. Dr. Weaver.

His thesis, "The History of the Doctrine of Inspiration in the Eighth Century, B. C.," is a contribution to the Higher Criticism of the Old Testament from a conservative point of view. This monograph will be used as a reference book in the future study of inspiration and Higher Criticism in the Seminary. It is probable that Dr. Weaver will publish the book during the ensuing year. He leaves Louisville today for Ohio where he will take charge of one of the wealthiest and most aggressive Baptist churches in that state. It has a large membership and does an extended mission work. Its membership, we are told, represents $15,000,000 of money.

The Telegram is always proud of the distinction won by Tarheel boys. Our congratulations to Dr. Weaver and to the great denomination he represents. May he be able to inspire in that rich church a richness in spiritual things to a degree commensurate with its wealth in temporal things.

LET US PERFORM OUR DUTY.

A Beautiful Sermon For Tomorrow's Reading.

"It is finished; and He bowed His head, and gave up the ghost." John 19:30.

When a man bows his head and gives up the ghost, it may be said, he has finished his work; whether it was good or evil. And it is true that the influence of this work lives after him, and is not interred with his bones. This being admitted, how important that every one sees to it that his life's work be directed in the channel productive of the most good. No man has the right to drop out of the race until he has no longer run. The saddest picture in this world is a man who loses his grip and then sits down with folded hands waiting for the pale horse rider to ride him down; making no resistance. There is work for all, and notwithstanding adversity or environment, we should take hold of the work and go on with it to the finish. The writer, several years ago, thought his task had been completed, and that only one thing remained; wait for death. But, fortunately, for the peace of his own mind at least, the idea struck him, your work has only begun; and God is opening a door, and though it may be the entrance to a red-hot furnace, go in. God has promised that the flames shall not hurt thee; it is necessary that you finish your work. The flames have done us good. Instead of a hardening influence they have brought a peace, contentment, happiness and tranquillity that we never knew before. So if these be the last days, time is so short and duties so pressing, we seldom have time to entertain the thought. Strangely did the character of the man who will lose nerve in that hour which should be the polishing period. You know that you pass this way but once, then, why not by a life of implicit trust and resignation to the divine will, help to grade the road to the tomb; thus making it easier traveling for those who travel with you, or who will come after you? That is the part of work given every Christian, road grading, Jordan, you know, so some say, is a mighty hard road to travel. It should not be so. Every one should work on this road. If he doesn't he need expect no comfort as he draws near the end.

The words of today's text were the last spoken by Christ. He had been, so far as we know, but three years in completing the work He had come to earth to do. The years had been filled with suffering and pain. He had but small success in winning men to His side, and those who did walk with Him for a little while deserted Him in the hour of agony and death, and He was forced to meet that trial alone. But it was part of the plan by which men were to be saved; although had they accepted Him His death would have been unnecessary, for none could follow Him without being saved. In the three years He taught how good a man may be who will take Him as his pattern. He finished his work that day when he bowed his head and gave up the ghost, but the influence of that life, example and resignation to the will of the Father still abides; and the only hope of this sin-stricken and depraved world to be saved is in that work which He did for man. There is no other way, and to attempt to build upon any other foundation will be building on sand. As His work from the beginning had a plan, so should ours. And when it is finished may every detail of that plan in our life show that it had been patterned after the divine model.

The one great central thought shining out from Christ's work, clearly as a sunbeam, is love. So if we would put the finishing touch to our work we must not forget this. No man can be a Christian, nor any part of one, who is wanting in this attribute of Christ. His love is not surprising as it is sometimes preached from pulpits and written in books. Christ is defined as God, and God as a creator. Then it would have been surprising, in the extreme, had He made no provision for the salvation of His creatures who came into this world, certainly, by no choice of their own. Therefore, it was perfectly reasonable for God to save His children, even if it called for the blood of His only Son. And the preaching, which speaks of the sacrificial atonement as being a condescension on the part of God, uses me very much. There died a short time ago in this state a man who combined in his make-up, the Christian lawyer, father, statesman, and teacher. In a letter from one of his sons, in reply to words of condolence written him by the writer, the grateful boy wrote that his father's life had been one of sacrifice for his children, and that by precept and example he had taught them the way to life. Yes, he saw his children well fixed in life and character. In giving them such an example, others saw his good works, and glorified the God whom he served. He finished his work. He was gathered to his fathers full of years of usefulness. That man in the hour of death did not think He had done too much for his state and family. Neither does God think he has done too much for His children when He sees them working faithfully for the good of others; though to give this example, cost the blood of Christ. No price could be paid that is too high, if thereby, the salvation of humanity is secured. And although this may be the truth, it does not detract one iota from the great lesson of love that shines out in the life and death of Christ; and is given us a pattern. "I have given you an example."

One more thought. To finish the work God has given you calls for suffering. Are you able to meet this? To take it patiently and walk the way of sorrow which you must sooner or later do? The world has many today whose suffering has been longer in duration than that of the Savior. They began the way with Him, and as true soldiers will never turn back. His influence is on them and His spirit directing them. They never come in touch with the great procession, but live on, with no desire save that their lives may be owned and blessed of Him whom they love and serve. And on and on they go in the divine life, gathering new strength for the conflict daily, glad that they may be permitted for His glory to suffer. With tranquillity they approach the dim unseen, and when the golden sunset of a life spent in the service of God has changed into the darkness of the valley of the shadow, they will fear no evil. And by His rod and staff comforted, the traveler, who sometimes has been so tired, though he never flickered, will close his eyes, and say: "It is finished." But in the meantime, let us not forget our duty; and it will be well with us. That is a fact; not opinion.

To love and be loved, is every woman's right. To be beautiful is impossible for some women. To be bright-eyed, clear-skinned, red-lipped, vivacious, attractive, healthy, and full of life, is the privilege of all. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a medicine for men and children as well as women. It is a most wonderful blood purifier and flesh builder. It searches out and kills disease germs in the digestive system, blood and lungs and puts the whole body in a strong, healthy state. Before purchasing medicine of any kind it is well to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y., stating your symptoms. He will diagnose your case and prescribe for you free of charge. It may be that you need both "Favorite Prescription" or you may need only one. Possibly your case requires something entirely different. Whatever you need Dr. Pierce will tell you without a cent of cost to you.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 28.

I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions,
I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock.
The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles." Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind.
During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

Large Bottles for $1.00 at Druggists.

WINE OF CARDUI

LADIES' ADVISORY DEPARTMENT.
For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, REV. J. C. CARDUI, MEDICINE CO., CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

It stands to reason that a manufacturer can't fill orders when his hands are full. Intoxicated employees are seldom able to work, you know.

Strong butler and strong language are sometimes known to go together.

A poor excuse greatly resembles a lazy man—neither of them are apt to work.

The Best Remedy for Flux.

"In July of last year I was taken with a severe attack of flux," says Mr.
Joe Baker, of Allentown, Tenn. "I procured a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and used about half of it and it effected a complete cure. This is the best remedy for bowel trouble on the market. C. E. Holton, druggist.

Assistant—"Here's an item about a fellow being struck on the head by a block of ice and killed. How shall we head it?" Editor—"Oh, let it go as it came." "Died—From a Heavy Cold in the Head."

Prof. and Mrs. George W. White, of Guilford College, came in yesterday. Mrs. White is attending the state convention W. C. T. U.

Cam Buxton, Frank Miller Jr., and Rob Follin passed through yesterday afternoon returning to their homes in Winston from the University.

Mrs. J. T. Farrah and daughter, Miss Ida, of Winston, passed through the city last evening enroute to Atlanta to spend some time visiting relatives.

Mrs. J. F. George and children, of Winston, passed through yesterday enroute to Connecticut to spend the summer with relatives. Mr. George accompanied them as far as Greensboro.

July.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell
Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills
and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

A federal grand jury at Memphis, Tenn., indicted H. L. Armstrong, cashier of the Continental National Bank, for perjury and making false entries.

People who have once taken DeWitt's Little Early Risers will never have anything else. They are the "famous little pills" for torpid liver and all irregularities of the system. Howard Gardner.

"When a woman says goes," says
the Manayunk Philosopher, "especially if it's about her next-door neighbor. It's sure to go as far as the latter in that case."

Little, neglected scratches and wounds frequently result in blood-poisoning.
Better heal them quickly with DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, a thoroughly antiseptic application with a record of

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell
Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills
and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children
love it. Adults prefer it to bitter,
nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

See the Butterflies get honey on Tuesday evening.

Good music at the Butterfly Fete Tuesday evening.

Bloxton & Jennings have just opened some fine lounges.

Your attention is called to the change in Vancanon & Co's. ad today.

The Butterflies are getting ready for the Fete on Tuesday evening, June 6.

Mr. John Anderson, of Trenton, Mass., is visiting Mrs. Mary Scales on Spring street.

Dr. H. McKee Tucker, of Raleigh, spent last night at the Benbow returning home from Asheville.

Mrs. A. M. Scales left at noon today at noon for Wilmington where she will spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Worth, of Wilmington, arrived this morning and are the guests of the Benbow.

Mr and Mrs. D. Whitlock and two sons, who have been at the McAdoo for some time, left at noon today for Mt. Vernon Springs.

Mrs. R. M. Phillips left at noon today to visit friends and relatives in Jonesboro, Carthage and Siler City, going to Jonesboro first.

At the First Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning Dr. Smith will preach a special sermon to young people. Boys and girls, young men and women are especially invited.

Mr. J. S. Ingram, of the Telegram force, who has been quite sick for the past few days at the home of Mr. R. M. Phillips, on South Elm street, is much better today, we are pleased to state.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Highsmith, of Fayetteville, spent last night in the city returning home from Asheville, where the doctor has been attending the meeting of the North Carolina Medical Association.

The Merchant's Grocery Company's large black horse is quite sick. Dr. Stewart, of Vanstory's stables administered to him all last night and says he is threatened with pneumonia. He is a fine animal, weighing about 1600 pounds, and was formerly owned by the W. G. Mebane Company.

"CAPT. DICK" REPEATED.

And a Perceptible Improvement Marked Last Night's Playing.

Messrs. Bertram and Willard's excellent war drama, "Capt. Dick," was repeated last night at the Academy of Music to another large audience. The playing of each member of the cast was improved quite perceptibly over that of the preceding night. Their movements were easier, and their speeches rendered with greater smoothness and more "trippingly on the tongue." The audience's expectation being at a much greater tension, the fact that considerable improvement was noticed argues well for the growing skill of the company.

The acting of all the ladies was especially excellent. The cool and graceful ease with which Misses Wolfe and Cooper rendered their parts is most highly complimented, no less than the masterly, touching pathos of Miss Stone. The pretty, modest, and blushing Miss Hall, the soubrette, in her delightful situations and irresistibly sweet manoeuvres, captured the hearts of the young gallants of the audience, as upon the night before.

Charming music was discoursed by the Misses Crocker upon violin and piano.

Messrs. Bertram and Willard left today for Winston where they will organize a troupe for the presentation of "Capt. Dick" at that place.

Our High Point Bureau.

With the last day of May Mr. Claude C. Barbee's connection with the Telegram in High Point ceased and on the 1st day of June Mr. Will L. Stamey took charge. We inadvertently omitted mention of this before. Mr. Barbee's relations with the paper were of the most pleasant nature and he left us with a fair share of our esteem and good will, and we wish him abundant success. Mr. Stamey starts in like a born journalist and we commend him and his work to the people of High Point, and assure them the Telegram will in the future as in the past, serve all who want the news while it is news. Now is the time to subscribe! All High Point subscriptions are payable to Mr. Stamey.

COURT CLOSES TODAY.

Judge Timberlake's Swift Work—Regular Term Opens Monday.

Guilford's special three weeks term of superior court closes this afternoon. During the term Judge Timberlake has despatched business in an unusually swift manner and has only added to his already enviable popularity with the Greensboro bar and all other lawyers who have had business at the court. More than fifty cases, many of which occupied two days and over, have been disposed of and few appeals have been taken.

On next Monday the regular two-weeks term of court opens with Judge Henry R. Bryan presiding. The criminal docket, we believe, is very light and a good part of the term will be left for civil cases. The civil docket is yet hopelessly heavy and many weeks of court would be required to dispose of all the cases.

Death of Mr. Giles Mebane.

Yesterday at Graham occurred the death of Mr. Giles Mebane, an aged and honored citizen of Graham. He was a prominent and most highly respected gentleman, much of his life being spent in the service of the public, and his death will cause a pang to many friends all over the state. He had arrived at the extreme age of 91 years, and leaves a wife 82 years old. He was the father of Mrs. Banks Holt, of Graham, and Miss Emma Mebane, of Greensboro.

Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Mebane, of this city, went down today to attend the funeral tomorrow at Haw Fields cemetery, one of the oldest Presbyterian cemeteries in this section of the state.

Change in Shipping Point.

On and after this date all shipments for point on or via A. & Y. R. R. should be delivered at the Southern Railway depot. Passenger trains will arrive and leave from A. & Y. depot as heretofore for the present.
